REGAIN CONTROL OF YOUR TELECOM EXPENSES

75% of companies report having been overcharged by their telecom providers. because of these reasons...

Don't know where to start

Most businesses do not have the expertise or bandwidth to effectively manage their telecom expenses.

Limited visibility into telecom spending

Without a comprehensive analysis of all bills and eligible credits identifying where your business can cut costs is hard.

Problems managing expenses and inventory

Managing telecom expenses isn't as easy as paying a bill. Only through careful tracking of all inventory can solutions be found.

IT organization can't provide appropriate support

In-house or vendor support teams can't always manage the workload of a lively business reducing asset effectiveness.

WE PUT MORE MONEY BACK IN YOUR POCKET

While it's tempting to utilize TEM software, a computer program can't live up to years of human experience. We're here to provide customized, personal support— exactly when you need it.

Making changes to vendors, filing disputes, and adjusting fulfillment based on seasonal workflow can be difficult (or impossible) with software alone. Our team of experts will identify any errors and come up with solutions before you know the problem exists, improving cash flow and recovering funds that would have otherwise been lost. You want to focus on your business, not processing invoices. Trust the professionals at Network Control to handle your TEM needs and get back to doing whatever it is you do best.

Table comparing Solutions, Network Control, and TEM software across various categories like Wireless expense management, Reporting and analytics, etc.

15-20% in savings for overlooked billing errors

25-40% expense reduction when a TEM solution was implemented

85% of errors are in the carrier's favor
